Introduction

This guide is designed to support you through each step of your ECA Report online application process.

Submitting a complete and accurate application is essential to avoid delays in the assessment of your file. To ensure a smooth experience and timely assessment, we strongly encourage you to carefully follow the instructions outlined in this guide.

Each section provides clear guidance on how to prepare your application, complete the required fields, navigate the online platform, and submit the necessary documentation, helping you apply under the appropriate steps for your professional degree in architecture.

Before You Get Started

- The Canadian Architectural Certification Board (CACB) is pleased to announce its designation by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) as the professional body responsible for conducting Educational Credential Assessments (ECA) for architects wishing to immigrate to Canada.
- The ECAs issued by the CACB will assesses whether an individual's foreign educational credential is authentic and determines if it is equivalent to a Canadian educational credential. The ECA Report will also confirm eligibility for the Academic Certification Program, which is the first step in the process to become a licensed architect in Canada.
- As of May 20, 2024, the Canadian Architectural Certification Board (CACB) began accepting ECA applications for those who have identified "Architect" (NOC 21200) as your primary or intended occupation.
- ECA applications are submitted through the online application system developed with the assistance of ALT Technical, after months of hard work and dedication.
- Holders of ECAs issued by the CACB may consider following the path to become a licensed architect in Canada through:
  - The Academic Certification Program, the first step in the process, followed by registration in the Architectural Internship Program (AIP) and successful completion of the Canadian Architects Exam (ExAC); or
  - The Broadly Experienced Foreign Architect (BEFA) Program if they are licensed architects in their home country and have at least seven years of post-licensure experience within the last twelve year.
- When applying for ECA Certification, you must select the CACB ECA program that corresponds to your Educational Credentials Assessments. Each mode determines how your education will be assessed.
